The Sir John Colfox Academy Single Equality Policy

This policy reflects the Equality Act 2010 which harmonises and replaces previous legislation including the Race Relations Act 1976, Disability Discrimination Act 1995, Gender Recognition Act 2004 and Sex Discrimination Act 1975. The policy therefore supersedes all previous school policies on Disability, Ethnicity (i.e., Race) and Gender. Through this policy The Sir John Colfox School will fulfil its public duty to have due regard to the need to eliminate unlawful discrimination, advance equality of opportunity, and foster good relations in connection with disability, ethnicity, gender, religion, sexual identity, and where appropriate, age (applicable to employees only). The guiding principles in this policy refer to all individuals and therefore are equally applicable to pupils, staff, and governors in addition to visitors to The Sir John Colfox School.

Legal framework

Duties as identified in the Equality Act 2010 and its Schedules. There are nine equality strands (known as Protected Characteristics):

disability;
ethnicity (including Gypsy and Traveller groups);
gender;
gender identity and transgender;
faith, religion and belief;
marriage and civil partnership;
sexual orientation (homophobia);
pregnancy and maternity;
age.

Each relates to direct discrimination, discrimination by association, discrimination by perception, indirect discrimination; harassment and victimization. The Sir John Colfox School will seek to achieve positive action in respect of the Act.

It should be noted that all schools have a duty to comply with the Equality Act 2010 and the Public Sector Duties, and failure to do so could result in legal action against the school's Governing Body. Employees of the school acting on behalf of the Governing Body are also liable for their own discriminatory actions.

The Sir John Colfox School is mindful of the Public Sector Equality Duty which came into force on 5 April 2011, and will publish relevant information on the school's website:

- (i) Our Equality Objectives from 6 April 2012 and to monitor, and report upon these annually.
- (ii) Equality information on students

Good Practice

1. We strive to achieve a cohesive community and expect that children respect one another and behave with respect to one another, and that their parents feel fully engaged in the school.
2. We aim to enhance a wider sense of community locally, as well as in the context of the UK and the World communities.
3. We support the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, the UN Convention on the Rights of People with Disabilities, and the Human Rights Act 1998. Through our policies and actions we undertake to ensure that every child and young person is healthy, safe, is able to enjoy and achieve in their learning experience, and is able to contribute to the wider community.

4. We consider it prudent and sensible to maintain the practice of logging racist incidents and reporting them to the LA. We monitor and log incidents that discriminate against children and young people or adults in our school with protected characteristics, e.g., homophobic bullying. We also monitor and log bullying incidents directed towards those with special educational needs.

Guiding principles

In fulfilling the legal obligations and establishing our school ethos, we are guided by 9 principles:

Principle 1: All learners are of equal value

We see all learners and potential learners, and their parents and carers, as of equal value:

- whether or not they are disabled,
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status,
- whatever their gender or gender identity,
- whatever their sexual identity.

Principle 2: We recognise and respect difference

Treating people equally (Principle 1 above) does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate but must nevertheless take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage which people may face, in relation to:

- disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made;
- ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised;
- gender, so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, women and men are recognised;
- sexual identity.

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes and relationships and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging

Policies, procedure and activities promote:

- positive attitudes and actions towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people;
- positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice related bullying and incidents;
- mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, women and men and an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment.

Principle 4: We observe good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development

Policies and procedures benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion and in continuing professional development:

- whether or not they are disabled;
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status;

- whatever their gender and sexual identity and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity.

Principle 5: We aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between:

- disabled and non-disabled;
- people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- girls and boys, women and men;
- gay people as well as heterosexual.

Principle 6: We consult and involve widely

People affected by a policy or activity should be consulted and involved in the design of new policies and in the review of existing ones. Consultation involves:

- disabled and non-disabled;
- people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- girls and boys, women and men;
- gay people as well as heterosexual.

Principle 7: We address prejudice and prejudice related bullying

We oppose all forms of prejudice which stand in the way of fulfilling the legal duties listed above:

- prejudices around disability and special educational needs;
- prejudices around racism and xenophobia, including those that are directed against religious groups and communities, for example anti-Semitism and Islam phobia, and those that are directed against Travellers, migrants, refugees and people seeking asylum;
- prejudice reflecting sexism or homophobia.

Principle 8: Society as a whole should benefit

Policies and activities should benefit society as a whole, both locally and nationally, by fostering greater social cohesion and greater participation in public life of:

- disabled and non-disabled;
- people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- girls and boys, women and men;
- gay people as well as heterosexual.

Principle 9: Objectives (covered by Equality Objectives after 6/4/12)

Each year we formulate and publish specific and measurable equality objectives, based on the evidence we have collected and published, in relation to:

- disability;
- ethnicity, religion and culture;
- gender.

Arrangements, Roles and Responsibilities

1. The equality objectives for The Sir John Colfox School will be set out formally and are referenced in the School Improvement Plan. They will be reviewed annually, and refreshed on a four year cycle.
2. The equality employment information will be monitored and reported to the Governing Body on an annual basis and published on the website.
3. The Sir John Colfox School will undertake Equality Impact Assessment (Equality Analysis) exercises when renewing or reviewing policy or practice to ensure full compliance with the Equality Act 2011.

Curriculum

4. Curriculum information will also be evaluated by looking specifically at equality groups in addition to the standard analysis conducted by the school and adjustments as appropriate to ensure that equality groups are supported positively.
5. All other data relating to whole school monitoring will encompass scrutiny of equality information so that groups are supported positively.
6. When it is reviewed, each curriculum subject or area will ensure that teaching and learning will reflect our Guiding Principles as set out above.

Staff and Governors

7. The Governing Body is responsible for ensuring that the school complies with legislation, and that this policy and its related procedures and action plans are implemented.
8. A member of the Governing Body has the role of monitoring the implementation of this policy.
9. The Headteacher is responsible for implementing the policy; for ensuring that all staff are aware of their responsibilities and are given appropriate training and support; and for taking appropriate action in any cases of unlawful discrimination.
10. A senior member of staff has day-to-day responsibility for co-ordinating implementation of this policy.
11. All staff are expected to:
 - adhere to this policy;
 - promote equality and inclusion in their classrooms, amongst colleagues and with visitors to the school;
 - deal with any prejudice related incidents that may occur;
 - plan and deliver curricula and lessons that reflect our Guiding Principles ;
 - provide and analyse quantitative and qualitative data that supports better understanding of equality groups and any issues that may arise, e.g., attendance, bullying, exclusion;
 - undertake or support Equality Impact Assessment (Equality Analysis) processes;
 - attend appropriate training that enables The Sir John Colfox School to keep up-to-date with equality issues.
12. All staff and Governors have access to training and a selection of resources which discuss and explain the concepts of equality, diversity and community cohesion. We value the opportunity to take a holistic approach in fulfilling our Equality Duties.

13. All staff and Governors will exercise their Safeguarding responsibilities in relation to equality matters and ensure that any bullying or challenging of Human Rights is addressed immediately.
 14. The Sir John Colfox School is opposed to all forms of prejudice that could act as a barrier to achieving our legal duties and a cohesive community. These include:
 - disability;
 - special educational needs;
 - racism and xenophobia;
 - gender and transgender;
 - religious groups and communities;
 - Travellers, migrants, refugees and people seeking asylum;
 - sexism and homophobia.

The Policy in Practice

Examples of good practice are outlined below

1. THE CURRICULUM

- (a) Heads of department and subject teachers examine their schemes of work and resources carefully to ensure that they are in line with school policy.
- (ii) The options system is carefully constructed to ensure that students have the opportunity to experience a broad and balanced range of subjects. Choice has been restricted to ensure that students continue to study each main curriculum area.
- (iii) Steps are taken by each department to ensure that no group is disadvantaged eg girls in Mathematics, Science or Technology and boys in English or Creative Arts. Free School Meals students have access to curriculum trips (subsidised by the school)
- (iv) The curriculum and teaching styles are designed to meet individual needs in classes, particularly for SEND or EAL students, where there is a wide variety of ability, background and culture.
- (v) There is positive encouragement to find progression routes in education after the compulsory school leaving age and to reduce the number of NEETS (not in education, employment or training)
- (vi) The careers programme is designed to explore non-traditional as well as traditional paths for all students, including those with Special Needs.
- (vii) The curriculum as a whole, is designed to:-
 - (a) address the implications of living in a multi-cultural society
 - (b) examine traditional stereotypical roles
 - (c) encourage positive responses to those who are disadvantaged
 - (d) develop tolerant and non-discriminatory attitudes.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Exchanges, visits, residential courses and field trips

These are open to all students and arrangements are made to ensure that individual circumstances background do not disadvantage or deny access. They are designed to avoid gender bias and to broaden horizons and endeavour to facilitate the needs of all students. Individual needs of all kinds are addressed and present no obstacle to equal participation.

Arts and Leisure

All students have the opportunity to participate in and/or be a member of the activities on offer; e.g. Drama Club, music groups, theatre trips, etc. Where families are at an economic disadvantage (eg music lessons, trips etc.) the school will pay for this through Pupil Premium funds.

Sport

It is understood that, at times, positive discrimination may be necessary so that each student is encouraged to reach their full potential. This is in accordance with the Sex Discrimination Act which suggests that voluntary sporting bodies are allowed to exclude the opposite sex.

There are well attended sporting clubs which include approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{2}{3}$ of each year group and involve a wide variety of staff other than PE specialists. Students are encouraged to regard sporting events as being for all students at the Sir John Colfox School, supportive roles as well as active participation being encouraged and valued. As a result the Sir John Colfox School has a wide breadth as well as depth of excellence in sports.

THE SCHOOL AS A COMMUNITY

- The school is a Rights Respecting School and as such it promotes tolerance, fairness and an emphasis on individual rights and responsibilities. Opportunities are provided for everyone in the school community to be listened to and to share their concerns through the House and School Council, Parents Consultation Groups, the Rights Respecting Community, confidential questionnaires etc.
- The ethos of the school emphasises successful learning and development. Care is taken to recognise and celebrate achievement through the rewards system.
- There is a written Learning Promise which upholds the right of every individual to pursue their work without interference. This is supported by a written behaviour policy and an Anti-bullying Policy.
- All parents are encouraged to take an active part in the life of the school and are consulted regularly.
- The progress and achievement of all students (and particularly underachieving or vulnerable students) is regularly monitored and intervention and support strategies put in place.
- Assemblies are used to set the “tone” of the school and emphasise the caring ethos. Role models and themes in assemblies are non-stereotypical and represent a multicultural viewpoint. The House system, including House Captains, house buddies and Student Leaders, encourages independence, responsibility and community cohesion.

- There are positive relationships with the local community (Rights Respecting Community, Local Democracy Week, Spirit of Bridport, charity work etc.) which promote community cohesion.
- The school is involved in international projects which support a global awareness and support equality objectives eg Ghana link, Camps International, Srebrenica project.
- The pastoral structure supports the caring ethos of the Sir John Colfox School and staff are specifically trained to assist students on a one-to-one counselling basis during times of personal stress. External specialists are also available to help students, e.g. confidential medical advice, a “Stop Smoking” clinic, etc.
- The Accessibility Policy ensures the school’s facilities are appropriate for all in the community and this is reviewed regularly.

STAFF

The policy has been formed within the framework of the statutory legal requirements but also recognises the need to promote positive attitudes which will result in the lowering of traditional barriers to equality of opportunity.

As a result:

- (i) All staff will be given the opportunity to develop their skills and expertise in their chosen career.
- (ii) Part-time staff enjoy identical professional status as full-time colleagues and are given the same opportunities for development and are regarded as an equally important part of the school.
- (iii) In keeping with Dorset County policy the School gives the maximum support, as far as possible, to staff taking career breaks or flexible retirement.
- (iv) Appointment procedures are in line with the Governors’ Policy and aim to draw to interview candidates of quality. The interview panel seek to establish appointments of high calibre, potential and experience according to the needs of the school as a whole.

MONITORING AND DEVELOPING THE EQUALITY AND ANTI-DISCRIMINATION POLICY

All staff constantly monitor this Equal Opportunities Policy. The SLT ensure that everyone is fully aware of the policy and that it is implemented.

The Policy is reviewed by Governors every three years with annual monitoring of the SEN and Safeguarding policies

The progress and achievement of vulnerable groups is monitored at least termly by SLT and annually by the Governors.

Published information on equality and an Action Plan to promote equality is included annually in the School Improvement Plan in line with statutory regulations (from April 2012)

Equality information

Part 1: Information about the pupil population

Number of pupils on roll at the school: 835

Information on pupils by protected characteristics

The Equality Act protects people from discrimination on the basis of 'protected characteristics'. Every person has several of the protected characteristics, so the Act protects everyone against unfair treatment.

In order to ensure that all pupils are protected from discrimination, the school collects information on some protected characteristics of their pupils these include:

Disability*
Ethnicity and Race
Gender
Religion and Belief

* Not all parents choose to supply this information

Sensitive information on some pupils with protected characteristics

It is not appropriate for us to collect information from pupils in relation to some protected characteristics, gender identity and sexual orientation.

However, as a school we are aware that there may be a number of equality issues for gay, lesbian and bisexual pupils, as well as those who are undergoing or who have undergone a reassignment of their gender.

Maternity and pregnancy is also a protected characteristic.

If there should be students who are pregnant or have young children, we will offer support to enable equality of opportunity.

Information on other groups of pupils

In addition to pupils with protected characteristics, we gather further information on the following groups of pupils:

Pupils on free school meals

Pupils with Special Educational Needs or a disability (SEND)
Pupils with English as an additional language
Pupils with a Traveller heritage
Pupils from low income households
Young carers
Children in Care

Part 5: Our equality objectives

The Equality Act 2010 requires us to publish specific and measurable equality objectives. Our equality objectives are based on our analysis of data and other evidence. Our equality objectives focus on those areas where we have agreed to take action to improve equality and tackle disadvantages.

We will regularly review the progress we are making to meet our equality objectives.

Equality objective 1:

To improve the attendance of SEND and PP students.

Progress we are making on this objective:

In 2015 the attendance of SEND and PP students was better but the gap to non SEND and PP was still too wide. SIP Priority 2015-16.

Equality objective 2:

To reduce exclusions for SEND and PP students.

Progress we are making on this objective:

Fixed term exclusions for these groups are significantly higher than for Non SEND and Non PP. We have restructured the support offered in the Inclusion Centre and are monitoring the impact of this.

Equality objective 3:

To ensure staff understand the implications of the Prevent Strategy and other key aspects of the Safeguarding Policy.

Progress we are making on this objective:

- Training on issues to be regular
- Policy has been re-written
- Promote values in assemblies and in curriculum
- Identifying concerns/triggers for staff

We believe that publishing our equality information will make us transparent about the progress we are making on equality, and more accountable to parents and the local community.
